Eleanor Barnett

Year 11

Eleanor Barnett is one of six students selected from 30 applicants in WA to attend the 52nd Australian National Mathematics Summer School which will be held at the Australian National University, in Canberra on 5th - 18th January 2020. She is the only WA country student.

"The National Mathematics Summer School (NMSS) is a two week residential academic camp targeted at students from across Australia who are about to begin Year 12. The summer school is held at the Australian National University (ANU) in the first two weeks of January, with students and staff staying on campus at a college.

During the camp, students are exposed to a wide range of interesting and challenging mathematical topics. The learning style of the summer school has an immense focus on deep independent thinking and problem solving, and this is cultivated with a lecture/tutorial format, and tutors to facilitate the sessions.

Apart from the academic program, there is also a great social program and culture at the summer school. Students have a great deal of free time to explore Canberra, bond with their fellow students with activities like ice skating and paddleboating and participate in a great deal of wonderfully mindbending activities."
